

Ashley Theuring

Bio:

Ashley Theuring is an Assistant Professor in Theology, specializing in constructive and practical theologies. She completed her doctorate at the Boston University School of Theology in the Practical Theology program. Her theological research is informed by her past work at a rape, crisis, and abuse centre, Women Helping Women of Hamilton County, where she was as an advocate and educator. Her research continues to be informed by contemporary communities of trauma survivors and focuses on exploring religious practices, meaning making, and survival in response to trauma. Ashley also serves as the board president for Art Religion and Culture \(ARC\): A Creative Collaborative for Theopoetics. She is currently working on her forthcoming book Fragile Resurrection: Hope After Domestic Violence.

Publications:

"Imagination as a Theological Resource: A Theopoetics-Informed Trauma Theology."

The Syndicate. 2016.

"Salvific Communities and Practices of Resistance: A Feminist Theological Response to Trauma."

The Other Journal. 2015.

"Holding Hope and Doubt: The Interreligious Theopoetic Response to Public Tragedies."

CrossCurrents. 2014.

Websites:

<https://www.xavier.edu/theology-department/directory/ashley-theuring>

www.xavier.edu/issj

<https://artsreligionculture.org>